SUMMARY DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

What is Our Business?

NEO is a Canadian battery materials technology company focused on silicon anode materials for lithium-ion batteries in electric vehicles, energy storage, and electronics applications. With a patent-protected, low-cost manufacturing process, NEO enables longer-running and ultra-fast charging batteries compared to existing state-of-the-art technologies. The Company's silicon anode materials, known as NBMSiDE[®], will help accelerate the mass adoption of electric vehicles through the battery's performance innovation and cost reduction.

Silicon is recognized as the sole viable material to resolve both limited driving range and slow charging issues caused by the deficiencies of graphite anodes. The Company aims to become a globally leading producer of silicon anode materials for the electric vehicle and electronics industries. NEO is actively conducting material evaluations with numerous global battery cell manufacturers, EV OEMs, and various companies in the battery supply chain.

Recent Developments

There are no material recent developments in respect of the Company that have not been disclosed in this offering document or in any other document filed by the Company in the 12 months preceding the date of this offering document.

Notably, certain recent developments include:

- On September 5, 2023, the Company received its first purchase order (P.O.) for 400 kilograms by an Asian chemical material company. The purpose is to combine NEO's silicon anodes with the customer's materials to develop composite anodes for commercial lithium-ion batteries. NEO plans to supply over a one-year timeline, delivering gradually optimized samples.
- On August 21, 2023, the Company announced the collaboration advancement with NanoRial Technologies Ltd. through expanding the silicon anode product portfolio and NanoRial's carbon nanotube coatings for NEO's silicon anode materials. Preliminary evaluation to improve silicon battery performance is underway, and the formal partnership named "Project 2N-CSi" will be used to apply to non-dilutive programs in Canada.
- On August 16, 2023, the Company announced the successful validation of performance enhancements from the improved uniform nanocoating innovation for NEO's silicon anodes. New chemical additives and formulations have further strengthened the coating layers to control silicon's volume expansion problem. The best-manufactured samples have demonstrated over a 70% increase in cycle life improvement.
- On July 24, 2023, the Company announced the initial application to a federal-level grant funding of CAD$

1.5 million for an expected project cost of CAD$ 2 million. NEO is actively communicating with provincial government officials, municipalities, and academic institutions to establish a strong Canadian network for NEO's Canada Expansion Strategy.

- On July 19, 2023, the Company announced the acceptance into the expansion R&D facility at Gyeonggi Technopark (GTP) located in Ansan Science Valley (ASV). Positive developments have required larger-scale sample production with a greater headcount of battery industry professionals to support pre-commercialization. GTP operates to help high-tech SMEs on both the economic and technological forefront.
- On May 11, 2023, the Company announced the filing of its 7th and 8th patent regarding silicon anode material properties and manufacturing process. To date, three patents have been issued, and five patents are pending issuance in various jurisdictions. NEO has also established product evaluation pipelines with global battery cell manufacturers, EV automakers, electronics manufacturers, and Asia-Pacific conglomerates to ink advanced agreements.
- On March 6, 2023, the Company announced that Dr. S. G. Kim, a silicon/polymer material and chemical technology development expert, has been appointed as Chief Technology Officer. Dr. Kim served as the Executive Vice President and Head of R&D at Hanwha Solutions' Advanced Material Division, the chemical manufacturing arm of the South Korean conglomerate.
- On February 28, 2023, the Company signed a letter of intent (LOI) with an undisclosed, top U.S. university spin-out company of polymer electrolytes (Developer). The Parties will explore opportunities to integrate the Developer's polymer electrolyte technology into NEO's silicon anode to improve the performance of the battery. The non-flammable characteristic of polymer electrolytes can provide increased safety.
- On December 29, 2022, the Company signed a memorandum of understanding (MOU) with an Asian-based producer of high-purity silicon powder by recycling silicon waste from solar photovoltaic and semiconductor industries. The Recycler's technology holds the potential to reduce silicon input prices by more than 30% for NEO's silicon anode materials.

Material facts

There are no material facts about the securities being distributed that have not been disclosed in this offering document or in any other document filed by NEO in the 12 months preceding the date of this offering document.

What are the business objectives that we expect to accomplish using the available funds?

NEO intends to issue up to 15,625,000 Units for gross proceeds of up to $5,000,000 under the Offering as a listed issuer financing pursuant to section 5A.2 of NI 45-106. The business objective of NEO is to ensure that, at a minimum, the Company will have positive working capital for a period of 12 months following the distribution, to further develop demonstration systems for developing silicon anode materials for batteries in electric vehicles and for general corporate purposes.

USE OF AVAILABLE FUNDS

What will our available funds be upon the closing of the Offering?

The following table sets forth the expected total available funds to NEO following completion of the Offering:

		Assuming Minimum Offering	Assuming Maximum Offering
A	Amount to be raised by this Offering	$2,700,000	$5,000,000
B	Selling commissions and fees ⁽¹⁾	$189,000	$350,000
C	Estimated Offering costs (e.g., legal, accounting, audit)	$50,000	$50,000
D	Net proceeds of Offering: $D = A - (B+C)$	$2,461,000	$4,600,000
E	Working capital as at most recent month end (deficiency)	$8,600	$55,770
F	Additional sources of funding	$0	$0
G	Total available funds: $G = D+E+F$	$2,469,600⁽¹⁾	$4,655,770⁽¹⁾

Note:

- (1) The estimated selling commissions and fees assume that all subscribers to the Offering were introduced by a finder. For additional details, see “Fees and Commissions”.

How will we use the available funds?

Description of intended use of available funds listed in order of priority	Assuming Minimum Offering	Assuming Maximum Offering
Advancement and development of silicon anode materials for use in lithium-ion batteries ⁽¹⁾	$1,400,000	$2,400,000
General and Administrative expenses over the next 12 months ⁽²⁾	$975,000	$1,800,000
Unallocated working capital	$94,600	$455,770
Total	$2,469,600	$4,655,770

Notes:

- (1) Funds allocated to the advancement and development of silicon anodes are expected to optimize the electrochemical performance and cost-effectiveness of NEO’s materials and manufacturing process, respectively. Moreover, these funds as capital expenditures are anticipated to increase capacity for silicon anode sample production and testing at Gyeonggi Technopark in Ansan Science Valley. Funds allocated will also be used to increase the headcount of research engineers to expand overall productivity towards striking advanced agreements with global electric vehicle supply chain parties.
- (2) General and administrative expenses are expected to include salaries, professional fees, rent, travel expenses, fees related to investor and governmental relations and general and administration expenditures.

The above noted allocation of capital and anticipated timing represents NEO’s current intentions based upon its present plans and business condition, which could change in the future as its plans and business conditions evolve. Although NEO intends to spend the proceeds from the Offering as set forth above, there may be circumstances where, for sound business reasons, a reallocation of funds may be deemed prudent or necessary and may vary materially from that set forth above, as the amounts actually allocated and spent will depend on a number of factors, including NEO’s ability to execute on its business plan. See the “Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward- Looking Information” section above.

The most recent audited annual financial statements and interim financial report of the Company included a going concern note. NEO is still focusing on the development of silicon anode active materials for batteries to be used in the electric vehicle industry, and the Company has not yet generated positive cash flows from its operating activities, which may cast doubt on the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern. The Offering is intended to permit the Company to continue to achieve its business objectives, and is not expected to affect the decision to include a going concern note in the next annual financial statements of the Company.

How have we used the other funds we have raised in the past 12 months?

NEO has not raised other funds in the past 12 months.

FEES AND COMMISSIONS

Who are the dealers or finders that we have engaged in connection with this Offering, if any, and what are their fees?

NEO has not engaged any dealers or finders in connection with this Offering. The Company may compensate certain finders with a cash commission of up to 7% of the aggregate gross proceeds raised from the Offering and issue finders' warrants equivalent to 7% of the total Units subscribed under the Offering.
